President's Message

June 16, 1948

My Dear Graduates:

Four years have passed and to be more precise, four academic years have passed since you entered Siena College to begin your studies for the coveted degree which you are to receive this Commencement Day. I have studiously called these four academic years, for some of you interrupted your studies to take up arms in the defense of your country, that academic life such as we know it might go on.

Though our halls here at Siena College were never closed all through the course of the war, thanks be to God, still our present student body contains not only the natural growth from our High Schools, but a large percentage of veterans who were dreaming of Siena College and its halls while they were in the various battlefronts of our country in Europe, in Asia and in the Middle East.

The same determination that inspires the soldiers on the field of battle burnt in your breasts too in these four academic years and with the goal ever in sight you steadily stepped forward though at times you might have had to retrace your steps just like an army will do at times to better its condition.

Today, the whole faculty and student body of Saint Bernardine of Siena College looks on you with gracious eyes as you have come to this point in your career. We must have a special word for those of you who have carried out your determination even though you were burdened with the cares of family life. It shows that a contented life in the bosom of a happy family need not interrupt one's pursuit of intellectual fields and in the profession of our choice.

With this in mind as you are about to take this step, for that is what a degree means, a step in advance, as President of the College, I salute you all in my own name and in that of your professors who have helped you to come thus far and I ask God to bless you and yours.

Cordially,

FATHER MARK KENNEDY, O.F.M.,

President.

MATTER of FACT

By BILL KENNEDY

OPEN LETTER

Ladies and Gentlemen of the Graduating Class:

You are now full fledged college graduates. You now are the possessors of a title, be it B.S., B.A. or B.B.A. But whatever it is, you have earned it.

You have given Siena College four or maybe more years of your life. They have been plentiful years; ones that you will never forget. You have made friends, close and otherwise, who will serve as a foundation for your success in later life; for the ability to make friends is a virtue.

You have learned the meaning of success, for you are a success, insofar as you worked for something and attained what you worked for. You have increased your knowledge and also widened your ability to attain more knowledge. You have learned how to apply yourself to what you are working on and through tedious measures, achieve your goal. And yet, through all the hard work and study, you were able to set time aside for an effervescent social life.

In the words of the Redeemer, "Many are called but few are chosen." You are the chosen people. You are the fortunate ones for you were called to college and you were also chosen to graduate. And as a result, you have a head start, both in knowledge and intelligence, on the non-collegian.

All these things which you have earned and achieved were made possible through Siena. So it would seem that in return you owe her a debt. Not a monetary debt, but one of gratitude or appreciation. And you can best show this appreciation by lending glory to her name.

You hold Siena in the palm of your hand. You can either raise her to the great heights she deserves or you can degrade her beyond all repair in the eyes of outsiders.

I prefer to think that you will do the former.

School is now a thing of the past; you have become fully instated members of the cold and cruel world. Two paths lie open to you. The first is the road to lethargy which leads to despondency and dismal failure; and the road of industry which leads to success in every endeavor. Take the right path and the world is yours.

With the sincere wish that you make the most of every opportunity and that you have all the luck possible, I remain,

Sincerely yours,

BILL KENNEDY,

and the News Staff.

139 Sienese Receive Degrees at Exercise

Climaxing four years' hard work, 139 Siena students received their degrees this morning, at the 1948 Commencement Exercises, in Gibbons Hall.

The INQUIRING REPORTER

By Weatherwax and Danahy

It was Tennyson who once coined the phrase "In Spring a young man's fancy turns toward love." Since it is close to the last day of the Spring semester we could add to Tennyson's lines—"and school vacations, too."

So with these inspiring words in mind we asked a number of aspiring students the question, "What plans do you have for the coming summer vacation?" In answer to this inquiry, the majority of students plan to just take life "easy" until the Fall semester rolls around again. Here are some of their replies:

Richard Farley, Soph, Arts: My plans are simple. I would like to volunteer my services for a limited time to the Post Office so as to lessen the shock of my incoming report card.

Louis Pasinella, Soph, Business: June, Hospital; July, Summer School; August, Ann, Ruth, Etta, Shirley, Jerry, etc.

John Settany, Frosh, Science: Paying your own way through school requires money; money requires work so that's what I'll do for the summer—logical isn't it?

Hank Kelly, Soph, Arts: "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." I'll proceed to follow this axiom after a gruelling semester.

"Moose" McCormick, Junior, Arts: I think a summer resort job as a "singing" waiter would suit me.

Ed Winnicki, Soph, Business: I'm going to lie around in the sun and take life easy, as usual.

Al P. Restifo, Junior, Business: This summer I plan to do one of two things, or both. Either work to help finance my education, or attend summer school. Perhaps I shall be able to do both: work days and go to school nights. Eager Beaver, aren't I?

Jack Ryan, Frosh, Arts: I intend to enter a rest home and by next September I hope to be sufficiently recovered from this Spring semester in time to start all over again next year.

Joe Burke, Frosh, Science: After recovering from mental fatigue I shall enjoy the summer and be ready to return to the Golden Domed campus in the fall.

Leo Hogan, Frosh, Business: Hard work. If you don't think running up and down some of those rocky beaches on a hot afternoon is work, you're crazy!

Orlando Cioffi, Senior, Business: I plan to spend the summer in a mountain resort, with plenty of wine, women, and song.

Bill Abbott, Soph, Business: With my knowledge of figures I don't see how I can possibly lose at the Saratoga races this summer.

Bill Jubic, Very uncooperative: refuses to lend any information as to his summer months. (hmmmm, we have our suspicions).

The Most Rev. Edmund F. Gibbons, DD, Bishop of the Albany Diocese, presiding, awarded the degrees.

Honorary Degrees of Doctor of Laws were conferred upon the Very Rev. Mathias Faust, OFM, Procurator General of the Order of Friars Minor, and upon John T. Loughran, Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals of New York State.

Francis T. Bergan, Chief Justice of the New York State Supreme Court addressed the assembly as Commencement speaker.

The following student awards were given:

Valedictorian—Eli Werlin, BBA, Magna Cum Laude.

Salutatorian—Michael M. Mryczko, BS, Cum Laude.

Ideal Siena Man—James J. Gallagher, BS, Cum Laude.

Honor Society—Eli Werlin and Michael M. Myrczko.

Other awards were given for excellence in the major field.

Commencement Ball Tonight

Following the exercises this morning, there will be a Commencement Ball in Gibbons Hall, from 10 P. M. to 2 A. M. The Siena Collegians will provide music for the formal dance. It is sponsored by the Alumni in honor of the graduates. Admission charge for non-graduates will be $3.00 per couple.

Mass and Dinner Before Exercises

Commencement Exercises this morning culminated five days of senior activities.

Last Sunday, at 9:30 A. M., the graduates and their guests attended a Baccalaureate Mass and Sermon in Gibbons Hall. Celebrant of the Mass was the Rev. Albert A. Angelo, OFM, dean of studies; and the Rev. Valerian A. Cyrs, OFM, philosophy professor, preached the sermon.

On Monday following, at 6 P. M. in the college cafeteria an open house and reception was held for graduates, their parents, alumni, and guests.

At 8 o'clock the Student Senate awarded Social Activity Keys to outstanding seniors, which was followed by official installation of the newly elected Senate and class officers.

At 8:30 the College Band and Glee Club, sponsored by the Student Senate, gave a concert in honor of the graduates.

A dinner for the graduates was given in the cafeteria on Tuesday, at 6 P. M.

GOOD LUCK
GRADS!

Siena Awards Degree To State's First Jurist

Court of Appeals Chief Judge John T. Loughran, who was awarded the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws at this morning's Commencement Exercises, is New York State's most prominent jurist.

An outstanding Catholic layman, Judge Loughran, first sat on the judicial bench in 1930, when he became a judge of the State Supreme Court. In 1935 he was Associate Judge of the State Court of Appeals, and in 1945 became the first jurist of the state as Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals.

Judge Loughran was graduated from Fordham University with a Bachelor of Laws Degree, and he has been connected with the production of two law books. He co-edited "Keener's Cases on Contracts" (1914) and edited "Cases on Evidence" (1925).

Superman Has Nil On Fr. Ben

In the space of a few weeks, the Rev. Benjamin F. Kuhn, OFM, mathematics professor, has delivered 45 speeches to various organizations. When asked how he accomplished this Superman feat, Fr. Ben replied, "My head works fast."

On Wednesday, June 9, he spoke to the B'nai B'rith Social Club at Jack's Restaurant, Albany, on the contributions of the Jewish people to civilization and culture. He showed how this people has strenuously preserved the belief in one true God, and how they have always upheld moral law.

The Rensselaer chapter of the Knights of Columbus heard Fr. Ben Sunday, June 6, on the theme that there is no contradiction among true religion, true science, and true philosophy. He stressed the fact that religion gives us something to live for and to die for.

"The only ism we prefer in America is Americanism," Fr. Ben told the Delmar Kiwanis Club, Monday, June 7.

Fr. Ben, in an aside, mentioned that Anthony Di Sorbo was awarded the Patty Green Doll in the contest to aid the Franciscan missions. Leo Polinsky, sophomore class president, was chairman.

Siena Spirit Keeps Active

Up to the last few hours of the 1947-48 school year, the rejuvenated Siena spirit has maintained its excellent health. Though, for undergraduates, the semester is over, last night they turned out in full force to support the Band and Glee Club concert and the moving up of the new Student Senate.

At the ceremony, Jack Vandecar, '47-'48 Student Senate president, handed over his staff of office to Don Russ, incumbent president.

Because their Siena Night concert, May 18, at the Strand Theatre, Albany, was so well received, the Siena Band, directed by the Rev. Paul Oligny, OFM, and Glee Club, directed by the Rev. Raymond Beane, OFM, repeated that concert.

Senate activity keys were awarded to Jack Vandecar, Anthony Sbarra, Joseph Powers, James Maloy, and Marnie Healy.

Siena Graduate To Be Ordained As Franciscan

The Rev. Frater Donald Mooney,

OFM, '47, first graduate from Siena to receive the Franciscan habit will be ordained in the middle of this month.

Frater Donald entered Siena in 1939 and remained here until he went to the Franciscan Novitiate at Paterson, N. J. in 1941. It was here that he received the habit of St. Francis.

To study philosophy Frater Donald attended St. Stephen's Friary, Croghan, and St. Anthony's Friary, Butler, N. J. Following this he attended Holy Name College, Washington, D. C., for theological studies.

Though he was graduated from Siena in June, 1947, his ordination was delayed a year because of his youth.

The ordination of Frater Donald will take place in Washington, D. C., and shortly afterward he expects to say his first Mass at Ballston Lake, home of his parents.

Fr. Theophane Celebrates Silver Jubilee

The Rev. Theophane Leary, OFM, on May 23, quietly celebrated his Silver Jubilee as a priest, and three days later he was the Celebrant in a Solemn High Mass said at the Grotto in honor of the war dead. In his sermon Fr. Theophane reviewed his life with the men in service.

Twenty-five years ago, May 23, 1923, Fr. Theophane was ordained a priest. This had followed, seven years before, his graduation from St. Joseph's College, Callicoon, in June, 1916. After graduation Fr. Theophane took the Habit of St. Francis at St. Bonaventure's Monastery, Paterson, N. J., in August.

On August 6, 1917, he was professed. He then studied scholastic philosophy for three years at St. Stephen's House of Studies, Croghan. He studied theology in St. Bonaventure's College and Seminary in 1920.

During the war Fr. Theophane was Army chaplain for four years. He took part in three campaigns. But, most of his life has been spent teaching at St. Bonaventure's. He has been at Siena for one year, teaching in the ancient language department.

New Senate Names Leading Seniors

Don Russ, newly elected Student Senate president, announced the recipients of the Senate awards for outstanding seniors in extra-curricular activities, today.

Chosen were Jack Vandecar, this year's Senate president; Anthony Sbarra, Senior Class president, Saga spark-plug, and one of the founders of the Metropolitan Club; Joseph Powers, a Coventry Player, assistant librarian, and Snow Ball committeeman.

James Maloy, of the evening division, was chosen for his unflagging support of all student activities; and Marnie Healy, Sigma Omega president, also represents the evening division.

Fr. Mathias Celebrates Golden Jubilee In Visit

The Very Rev. Mathias Faust, OFM, Procurator General of the Order of Friars Minor, recipient of the Honorary Degree of Bachelor of Laws at this morning's Commencement Exercises, is visiting here in celebration of his Golden Jubilee of Profession in the Order.

The Very Rev. Mathias Faust, OFM,
Procurator General of the Franciscan Order

Fr. Mathias was educated in the Franciscan seminaries in New York and New Jersey. His profession took place on Dec. 25, 1897, and he was ordained on June 4, 1906.

At Paterson, N. J., between 1906-1919, he was Master of Novices, Assistant Pastor, and Director of the Third Order of St. Francis. Fr. Mathias became Minister Provincial of the Order, Holy Name Province, from 1919-1925.

Fr. Mathias was also Guardian and Pastor of St. Francis Friary and Church, and between 1931-1937, he was again Minister Provincial of the Province. Following this, until 1943, he was Vice-Provincial, and Director of the Third Order. Between 1942-1946, he was Delegate General, OFM, in North and Central America and Adjacent Parts.

In 1946 Fr. Mathias became the Procurator General of the Franciscan Order. He is also the founder of the American Franciscan History, Washington, D. C.

St. Bonaventure College has also awarded Fr. Mathias the honorary LL.D. Degree.

Will Truman Save the News?

This past year the Siena News staff has blithely been planning the enlarged weekly paper for next year. Plans were drawn up, staffers appointed, obstacles discussed.

Gradually the wrinkles were being ironed out, when one morning a Newsman bought an area newspaper. There, in appropriately black print was a shock:

SENATE PASSES DRAFT BILL; MEN 18-25 TO BE TAKEN

The gloom pervading the subterranean Newsroom was so heavy that it sank the place another three feet.

If the bill passes the House, uniforms are awaiting practically all of next year's News staff. Chewing their respective nails right now are Bill Kennedy, chief editor; Art Irving and Tom Carroll, managing editors; Jack English, feature editor; Joe Buckley, assistant managing editor; and Dick Hughes, present associate editor.

Only an unlikely veto by President Truman could save the News, it seems.

Lt. Col. George T. Stillman, commanding officer of the 7th AAA Battalion, Albany, offers these Newsmen a chance to complete their college education without interruption because of selective service. See Page 4 for further details.

Rod and Gunners Cast and Shoot

The Siena Rod and Gun Club, last Sunday, June 13, sponsored an outing at Melrose.

Outdoor-loving Siense took advantage of this event to do some organized hunting and fishing.

The participants, each bringing his own lunch in case the fish weren't biting, left from Troy at 9 in the morning.

Siena Nearly Co-ed Due to Rain, Roses

Siena came closer to being a co-ed college on Sunday, June 6 than it has in ten years.

It was on June 6 that the College of St. Rose was to present on their own campus the highlight ceremony of their graduation week, Rose Day, an outdoor pageant that was to progress for four hours under a brightly shining sun. But on June 6, it rained for six hours, and the plans for an open air pageant went up in smoke and the participants for the pageant came out to Siena.

The theme of Rose Day, which was presented in Gibbons Hall before a capacity crowd of over 5,000, was the Living Rosary, and was given in tableau form.

Fr. Peyton Speaks

The Rev. Patrick Peyton, banner-carrier for the Family Rosary Program, was the principal speaker of the day. Miss Rena Carr, a senior at St. Rose, was crowned Rose Queen in an impressive ceremony at the end of Rose Day.

The Franciscan professors and lay professors of Siena who were at the Rose Day ceremonies ventured to remark that such an event would be nice to have every day on the campus, and that it was a welcome change.

Openings in NYNG Col. Writes President

Headquarters 7th AAA (AW)
Battalion, NYNG

My Dear Father Mark:

Apropos our conversation of last Thursday, I should like to extend a welcome to any of the student body of Siena to join the 7th AAA AW Bn.

The National Guard represents a real opportunity for any man who is within draft age and otherwise eligible for the draft to receive his military training without the necessity of giving up his schooling or his civilian work, as the draft legislation has been prepared, it will exempt members of the National Guard who are in federally recognized units at the time the bill becomes law.

Guard training involves one night each week throughout the year (this unit drills Monday nights from 8:00 P. M. to 10:00 P. M.), and two weeks at summer camp. The men receive pay for each drill and for camp. Uniforms and equipment are furnished.

In addition to our enlisted recruitment program, we have a few officer vacancies. Former enlisted men who held one of the top three grades or any former officers are eligible to fill these vacancies.

Should you have any men who are interested in finding out more about the Guard, they may stop in at the armory any Monday or Thursday evening and see either myself or my executive officer, Capt. Arthur Cook.

It was a pleasure to meet and talk with you.

Very truly yours,
GEORGE T. STILLMAN,
Lt. Col., CAC, NYNG, Comm.
